Pauline, Kathy, Kristi, & families,
I have such fond memories of Howard. His soft-spoken, thoughtful spirit drew me to him as a child and as an adult. I admired him. However, he was fun-loving and a bit mischeivious; boating and fishing was fun, but telling me his beer was lemonade and watching me sneak a drink of his "lemonade" when I was nine...then hooting with laughter as I spit and sputtered was a little onery. Funny memory. He was steadfast, always the same over the years. Pauline, you and Howard always welcomed me to your house as family, and I always felt at home. His daughters have always been precious to me, and I see him in them and their children...his legacy goes on and on. My prayers are with all of you during this hard time.
