“ Barbara was a beautiful woman, wife, mother and teacher. She and Gary made my junior high, high school and college days especially good and beautiful through their untiring friendship and generosity. As adults we get involved raising our own families and meeting new duties and obligations and teaching our own children what we learned and remembered from the best of our own. Barbara and Gary were those types for me and I will always owe them a debt of gratitude. Cindy and Debbie were also generous to share their parents and friendship with so many of us during those careles and happy days of youth. I wish them all the very best and will always have the loveliest thoughts and memories of their family as part of my own.

Barbara was a true friend and caring, talented educator. She will be remembered for the positive impact she made on many lives., life is much too short. It is a gift to live well and not to dwell on negative things. She did that well. She weathered many “storms” in her life but through her faith and love made her corner of this world a little brighter.
