

Beatrice Andino

August 14, 1927 - April 13, 2018

Mrs. Beatrice Marie Andino "Bea" (Maiden Name: Amato) died peacefully on April 13th at the age of 91.

Bea is survived by her son, Salvatore Andino (Valery); favorite nieces: Rosemary Piri, Gloria Mundy, Kathy Smith, and Diane Ballard; nephew, Chuck Restivo; grandchildren: Frankie Andino, Tiffany Cohen, Kristen Bywater, and Kevin Bywater, and great-grandchildren: Kenna, Elle and Austin Cohen. She is preceded in death by her husband, Frank Andino, sisters: Francis Restivo, Millie Waddell, Jo Amato, and brother Angelo Amato.

Bea was born on August 14, 1927 in Brooklyn, New York to Salvatore and Maria Amato. She attended school in New York City where she met her husband and stayed there until she married Frank Andino (her favorite dance partner in 1947). After moving to California, Bea lived in various parts of Los Angeles before moving to Palm Desert in 1978 where she remained with her family living close by. Two of Bea's greatest joys in Palm Desert were volunteering at Eisenhower Medical Center for many years where she often entertained both employees and patients with her sense of humor. She also enjoyed playing in her Bocce Ball league where she often bragged about her team's accomplishments.

Mrs. Andino's services were private locally then she was taken to California for burial. Services are under the care of Brown-Winters Funeral Home and Cremation Service in Miami.
