“ I never wanted to to get married in my life until the day in 1982 when he came walking into Judy's cafe in Reydon Oklahoma and I knew that I wanted to get to know him I think I fell in love with him right then and there I walked up to his table and asked him if I knew him from somewhere before he asked me if I had been to South Dakota

“ As a consultant for JM Farms I only had limited contact with Brian, but I always enjoyed what time I had with him. We had many conversations about composting, mushroom growing, music, culture, and many other things that I would not have expected from him. Inside that rough exterior was a caring and dedicated man of higher awareness of the world than one would think from his appearance. And so it proves again, "You can't judge a book from its cover" and never prejudge anyone.

Rest In Peace Brian -- I enjoyed my time with you.

“ Brian and I go way back to the early 1970's. We first met when his dad passed away. He happened to be over at the neighbors house that day. I can't remember the reason but we got into a fight right off the bat but soon got over it and became the best of friends. We had a lot of adventures back in the day. RIP my friend.

We met at my shop just after we moved here , he needed a motorcycle built and and only had a gas tank . We worked together and got it done and he rode it all over the place . We would meet at the shop and go for lunch and talk. about everything under the sun . Brian was a good guy and a great friend to me and my wife Kate . He will be missed immensely . RIP , Brian
