

Chris John Brown

March 25, 1967 - August 29, 2024

It is with great sadness and heavy hearts to share the sudden departure of our sweet beloved father, Chris John Brown. He left this world at the young age of 57 on August 29th, 2024. He leaves behind his two heartbeats, his daughter and son, Ashalie and Aaron Brown who will miss him beyond measure until the day comes when he can hold them again.

In all pursuits, whether professional, personal or spiritual, he gave all he had and achieved extraordinary success. Most notable of all, though, was his success with becoming a father who loved and supported his children in all their life decisions. Dad was gentle, kind, thoughtful, free-spirited and very humorous. He always said humor was his best medicine. To know Dad is to know a comedian and he loved his audience. He always told us that his energy sparked when he made others laugh. You never heard the same joke twice, which takes talent. He would tweak a word or two here and there but always made it his own. Dad was so authentically himself and had an unforgettable sense of humor. He is just an unforgettable man.

He grew up in Las Vegas, Nevada before moving to Utah where he attended Spanish Fork High School. He remained in Utah for the majority of his life and started his family in Utah County. In recent years, he moved to Oklahoma where he met his final destination. We know he is tickled, as he would say, to come back home to Utah where he will remain with his children.

Dad was recently paralyzed from a bicycle accident in October ('23) and endured a lot of life-altering events throughout his younger years as well. He was a strong man and grew stronger with each punch that life threw, and he always encouraged his loved ones to take care of themselves and to be safe and live a long healthy life. We know he is free of pain now and know that he is biking, camping, fishing and enjoying his freedom in heaven away from the suffering he endured in his physical body.

“You stay tough and keep your head up! I pray that you are successful in everything you do in life.” - Chris Brown

He is surrounded by those who mattered most to him on Earth and was undoubtedly greeted with enthusiasm by his loved ones before him, especially his mother and father, Laurel and Duane Brown. He is survived by his two children, Ashalie and Aaron Brown (Gabriel). his partner, Carol Greenhalgh, his two sisters Laurie Ramos (Seamues) and Michelle Brown, Nieces and Nephews of Laurie and Seamues, cherished aunts, uncles, cousins, and his many friends. Dad spoke highly of his family and friends - always remember he loves us all dearly.

“ Chris was a fun person. I knew Chris thru the Church of Jesus Christ is Latter-day Saints. He was always trying to get people to laugh. I think that was medicine for him. He was humble and generous in all that he did. I know he will be missed, but his memories will always bring a smile to my face! Until we meet again.

“ He was my first nephew and what a fun boy he was. He was mischievous and funny at an early age..I love to tell the story of when he was around 5 years old, he swiped the toupee off my dad's head and he won't running out the door and down the street holding it like it was a giant critter with his arm outstretched...and dad was chasing right behind him yelling and hollering " you bring that back!" We laughed about that for years..eve. two weeks ago when he called me and my sister while we were on our trip. Now, he's much happier and released from his physical restraints, and I'm sure he's joking with dad again and loving his family reunion! I love you Chris, you were always special to me. Untill we meet again, God bless you as you so deserve it!
