“ Man, cuz, you wasn't supposed to go out like that! You said yourself that you was a warrior. I'm sure missing you right now and will continue to do so. I just wish I would've known ahead of time on how things were going to play out. Knowing what I know now, I would've took that drive!! I miss you and love you! Sure wish I could've talked to you one last time! I'll never forget the sound of your voice. It was different. You was easy to talk to and always ready to hear my problems and to give me whatever advice you had to offer which was great might I add, and of course, I always tried to be there for you as well, even when you couldn't sleep late at night. I just can't help but think that you went too soon. Again, I love you, cuz, and I hope to see you in heaven one day💕💕

Oh, and Em, I'll be praying for her each and every time I think to! I know she's already missing you!

Chris I'm so sorry for your passing. You were such a pretty baby and your parents were crazy over you. I know how much you loved Kat and her baby. You talked about them all the time . They will miss you. Tell your mom hello for me
