“ My sister did everything she could to get him the help he needed. It's not her fault it's not her kids fault. My sister and their kids did not deserve the way that they were living. She has the right to protect herself and her kids. All my sister wanted is for him to get help and he wouldn't. She loved him so much. So I'm praying for the people that are so heartless.

“ Chris will always be a brother to me. There's just not enough space here to share all of the memories that we shared. I have known him since 1st grade, maybe kindergarten. That man has saved me in the middle of the night from a whole mess of problems, drove that RX7 all the way to Austin, Texas to pick me up, I was on the stage with him when he was married, and I was there with him when his daughter was born (I still have the cigar to prove it). Although we had lost touch these last few years, I will always hold him in the highest regards. He will always be my brother.
