“ I just heard about this today, over a year later. I was instantly sad and rejoiced. He and Jana are together again. I loved this man as if he were my own father. He changed my life as a teen and young adult and I never told him/them (he and his wife). I never had a father, but he made me feel I could always count on him if I needed. I moved away in my thirties and lost contact for 20+ years. When I saw him a few years ago he gave me a tight bear hug. He will never know what that meant to me. It told me the love I had for him was reciprocal. What an awesome man he was. What a generous heart he had! He and Carol where always generous to a fault and I'm sad they're temporarily separated. Marla, or Carol, call day or night. I'll move heaven and earth to try to help either of you in anyway I can. I love you both. I pray God's love and peace surrounds you both as we finish out this journey on Earth!
