Jerry was a great man. Calm and patient, caring and firm when appropriate. He truly cared about his students and teaching staff's. As my principal during my HS teaching career he was very supportive and loved to celebrate great things done by both students and teachers- and coaches. He was such fun at a party where he could be "himself". I view him as great and a dedicated educator, helping to guide many young lives to successful adults! He sets the bar for good work. So many will remember him - he would be so proud
