“ Jill and I were college roommates while at OSU. She had a deeply gentle, loving, and spiritual nature. Kindness tempered with a sharp wit was her trademark. While I am saddened to learn of her passing, I know she’s dancing with angels. I loved Jill. Kristy

“ So very sorry to hear of Jill's passing. We've never met in person, but became good friends on social media. We were both dialysis patients and met through different support groups. She is missed.

“ Jill and I met when I worked at St. Martin's Episcopal Center in Fayetteville, Arkansas. This was in the late 1980's. We immediately connected and became fast friends. She taught me so much about being a good parent to my daughter, Chelsea, and was a source of support and love as I managed the ups and downs of being a single parent. We later worked together for St. Francis House which provided housing and resources to homeless families in the area. Jill looked for ways to serve God wherever and whenever she could, by helping those less fortunate. After my second marriage, Jill and I remained friends and I asked her to become the godmother to my son, Elijah. After she moved back to Miami, we lost touch for a bit but had recently reconnected through Facebook. Jill was a joy, and we shared many laughs. I can still hear her giggle in my mind. Her last message to me was to tell me how much I was loved! Jill always found a way to be a light in the dark to her friends even in her darkest days. I was so sad to hear of her passing, but I know she is in the loving arms of God and no longer suffering. She will be forever missed by me and so many whose lives she touched. Prayers ascending sweetie! I love you. Kelly Ecklund-Mathis

“ So very sorry to hear about Jill's passing. She was such a bright light at St Martin's in Fayetteville and the St Francis ministry to those in need through St Paul's in the 1980's. I truly loved reconnecting with her these past few years through a mutual friend from that era of our lives. Prayers ascending for all Jill's family and friends. May she rest in peace, and rise in glory. Kim+

“ I could go on forever with praises about the life of Jill Micka. I worked with her at ROCMND for a couple of years. She was funny, happy, and helpful to all...very knowledgeable about everything associated with her job and the care and compassion she provided to clients and coworkers was amazing. She carried that heartfelt compassion and love to our next joint adventure..working to establish the Animal Welfare Society (AWS) in Miami. Jill loved the animals and worked tirelessly to provide care and find loving homes for all of them. We have remained Facebook friends for years and our paths seemed to cross fairly regularly when we were both out and about in Miami. It was always an absolute joy to see her. I have always admired her strength in light of her health issues and her daily struggles to be there for everybody and every living thing with a need that she could provide comfort and service to. God bless Jill. She will be a delight to all in Heaven and truly missed by those of us on earth that were blessed to have known her. Rest in peace Jill, my dear friend.

“ Jill was my neighbor across the street from her lifelong home firing the late sixties. I found out only a few years ago that considered me a big brother. I always felt that she had the sweetest soul, and suffered tremendous grief about Damon's passing. I know her suffering is now over, and she can be that girl I always remember fondly.

I got to know Jill by cutting her hair. I remember her fondly of all our conversations. She was very helpful to me when Jim went on dialysis. They actually went at the same time. I will remember her fondly!

How in the world do you adequately describe the heart of Jill? She was an exceptional human being every way. In 1968 a tiny little 4 year old knocked on our front door and said to my mother, "Hello woman! I'm Jill"! The rest is a long history of love between Jill, my mother, Maxine Cornwell and me. I adored her and will miss her until we're together again. How very blessed we were to have had a Jill in our lives.

“ Jill I am so sad that you had to leave us...I met you first when I started taking care of your daddy. I thought the world of you. The world could not have placed a kinder person in my life. The love and care that you have showed me and my family is beyond what anyone could have ever expected. Tell your daddy that I said hi and I love him still...till we meet again girl...fly high on that mountain RIP Jill, I love ya girl

“ Jill was an absolute light! Loved her, talking on the phone with her, eating pie and drinking coffee with her, I appreciate the friend she was to me, I can NOT express how much I appreciate what she means to my kids. And I know God will reward her for the way she loved and took care of HIS animals. She loved them all.

I am so sad to read this and will come back to write more. Jill was a gift to all who knew her. She truly deeply cared about every human or animal that crossed her path. Her heart was huge. She was there with me when my grandmother, her neighbor and dear friend passed, and her presence there was also a gift. She was so compassionate and also had the best sense of humor. What a loss. She and my granny are about to have the best time! Jill, you are so deeply loved.

I remember Jill with the back seat of her car filled to the brim with puzzles, games, books etc. for her young clients that she counseled. Always exuberant, intelligent, hilarious and wise. I'll miss her so much. My prayers for the family.

I met Jill, when we both worked at the Miami Public Library as pages. What I remember the most was the laughter. She had a special way of making everyone feel like they were her best friend.
