

Jim Nigro

June 23, 1958 - January 26, 2024

Jim Nigro passed peacefully at home on January 26, 2024. Jim was born to John E. Nigro and Eleanor Nigro (née Audsley) in Kansas City, Missouri on June 23, 1958. He attended Southwest High School in Kansas City, leaving early to begin his adulthood in the restaurant and casino industries.

He worked over 30 years in the casino industry, dedicating about 14 years to Buffalo Run Casino in Miami, Oklahoma. He was an incredibly hard worker and loved and respected by his customers - many of which became friends-turned-family. More important than work was his family. He met Lori Nigro (née Winterholer) in Jackpot, Nevada and later married in 1997. He became a step-father to Tara Arrington, and he and Lori welcomed daughters Toni and Jonni. He was incredibly proud of all three of his daughters who learned about resilience and perseverance from him. Additionally, he was interested in war and Roman history, gold mining, fishing/hunting, all things Chiefs, and was an incredible cook. He was funny as hell and approached all people and conflicts with love. He will be incredibly missed. He is preceded in death by his parents, his wife, brothers Anthony and Marion Nigro, and sister Maria Perrone. He is survived by his daughters Toni (Graham) Brassfield of Washington, Jonni Nigro of Florida, and Tara Arrington (with loved grandchildren Emma and Logan Metcalfe) of North Carolina. He's additionally survived by brothers John (Sharon) Nigro, Mike (Shelley) Nigro, Matt (Tallie) Nigro all of Kansas, sister Holly Hearrean of Texas, and numerous nephews and nieces. A private family memorial will be held at a later date.

“ Looks like the picture of Jim was taken in Italy. I'm so glad he got to go there. He loved that trip!
