“ It's so hard, I met Keith about 10 years ago to find out that he was my uncle Tommy Wilson son. It is a great thing to find long lost family. I love him dearly, I will never forget his smile's and the energy of light he brought with him. He will be deeply missed.

“ Man, I could talk all day about my memories with you. You were my big brother. Not by blood but I knew you my whole life and we lived together like siblings for a lot of it. And you were there when my own brother died. I had the privilege of knowing you before the world got to you and you were such a bright light. Even after you went out into the world you would have done anything for anyone who was in need if you had the means to do it. I'll forever remember when the song Mike Jones came out we would blast it singing Keith Jones instead. Or gluing your face back together after you fell while dropping it like it was hot. Your smile was beautiful but the one you were able to put on the face of others, especially mine, was a gift not many have. We both lived lives on different paths that got further apart as they went on but you always knew when to check in on me. And I will forever be grateful for you doing just that last week. For our conversation we had and I will forever hold on to the fact I got to tell you how proud I am of you. And I am so proud of you. I love you more than you probably ever realized. My heart hurts so bad knowing you're gone and the world is a little darker and a little more empty. I will say though, that knowing where you were mentally just a week before and how proud of yourself you were gives me a tiny bit of solace knowing you ended on a good note. I wish you were still here so I could tell you all the things I never did. So you could watch your son grow up. So you could do all the things you always wanted but never got to. But I'm glad you're watching over all of those who went before us. Before their time. Too soon. And I'm sure you're up there catching up with ol Uncle Steve. Until we meet again Keith. Rest peacefully. We'll keep you source in our hearts and memories until then.

“ Where or where do I start? Keith you were so much more than so many people had the privilege to see. Those of us who really had the chance to know you know that you were a brilliant mind with a big heart and a kind soul that would always help those in need even when you yourself didn't have much to give. I hope that things were peaceful for you because you deserve nothing less and that you may finally rest and no that the fight is over and one day we will all see each other again.

“ We shared good times and a lot of laughter together. You taught me so much and had my back when no one else cared. You always looked out for me and that's something I'll cherish forever. You were one of the smartest people I ever had the privilege of knowing and I will forever regret not reaching out one last time. I pray you're at peace now and didn't suffer at all. Heaven gained a wonderful angel! Please find my mom and dad and tell them that I love and miss them and until I see y'all again, all of us will just try and pick up these pieces and go on. It's so hard to do though when you've left such a beautiful mark on our hearts and in our lives. You'll always be remembered and never forgotten! Big Love. #1 ❤️
