“ There are so many words to describe this girl... funny, kind, sweet, outgoing, and many more, but mostly loved by who ever came in contact with her. She made you smile even if you were mad, made you feel good about yourself and was a really great friend. She half grew up in my house when she was younger and even though I hadn't seen her in a while she was always in my thoughts. I can't imagine what life with me like for her family and all her friends that she ment so much to. I just hope for everyone to remember her as the always smiling happy go lucky girl I knew her as. I will miss you and I love you, like my own sweet girl. 💔
