*Dear Pop,
We all miss you everyday and seems like yesterday that you were just here. We have solace in knowing that you have been joined with other loved ones who needed you to be there waiting with open arms to greet them and help them understand where they are now. We now understand why you had to leave. What a joyous day it was that you picked to go with all the family around you. As always you had a plan and we can't be sad except for ourselves being left behind. Until we meet again my two favorite guys, Pop and Nate.
Love never dies, you both live on my heart and always will.*
