“ I'm sure Marilyn didn't know how I watched her, and how she interacted with other people. She would take Kasha and I to Joplin on Friday nights and we would walk the mall while her And Kathleen sat in the food court and talked. She always mad me feel at home when I was with her. And she taught me the importance of being a sister and maintaining relationships with my own sisters. She was a true woman of God and there's no doubt in my mind that she is rejoicing with her Savior in Heaven. May peace be with Kasha and Kaycie as they mourn and grieve the loss of such a great lady.

“ So many memories of Marilyn that it is hard to narrow down. A great Christian mother to her daughter, Deana. We first knew Marilyn before Deana was born. She played piano for our children's department for many years. She could read music but seemed to enjoy playing by ear. Our kids would request a song none of had ever heard of. I would tell them to come to the piano to sing it to Marilyn. Soon, Marilyn would be playing a new song for us to sing. She was awesome with the children and so patient with my husband and my unusual teaching style. We loved her so much and she eventually attended our Sooner Sunday School class. She never wanted to use her piano talents in adult settings. She didn't think she was "good enough" , even though we all felt she was one of our best. We will miss our fine beautiful Christian Indian lady. Im sure she had a happy landing with Jesus, whom she served all of her life, and was greeted by a host of relatives in heaven that have been waiting for her to join their pow wow. We love you forever, Marilyn and rejoice you have finally broke the chains of pain and suffering. May Deana and her family be comforted during this difficult period.
