“ I have known Max for many years. I first met him when I worked at Quapaw Casino in the off track betting. I continued to see him throughout the years at later jobs, walmart, commerce football games, etc. I always made a point to say hello and give Max a hug. I genuinely cared for him. He always asked how I was, where I was working. It made my day every time I saw him. He told me he loved me and I told him I loved him back and I truly meant it. The last time I saw Max was not too long ago at the doctor. He told me he had been in the hospital for a while and had found out he had cancer. I could tell he had been sick as he had lost a lot of weight. I could tell Max was scared and upset. He told me he was scared to die. That made me so sad. I haven't seen Max since, but I am sure going to miss him. I am unable to make it to the funeral service, but wanted his family to know, if they didn't already, that Max was a wonderful man and will be missed by many, including me, very much so. May Max rest in peace.
