“ Oh no - I was worried because of the cars at your home, Deborah. I am your neighbor in the next duplex and I met your husband after I first moved in. I immediately loved him and his calling out to me, "Hi neighbor" when he would hear my door open. What a wonderful guy he was and it showed from the first. Then when he fell, I worried about him and then talked to a relative of his and he brought me up to date. I will miss him - and my daughter will too. It was a blessing to know him even for such a short time. My deepest sympathy goes out to you and your family. May he rest in peace.
