“ Mom always listened to music in the car with me and I learned I love the bands she listened to. And all the night time prayers we prayed together means the world to me. We would even talk about heaven, and I asked when she goes if she will come back to visit me. She said if God lets her. ❤️ She was amazing and resilient women and mom! She was so fun to be around and would give her last dime just to make her kids happy. I was always attached at her hip. Now I know it's because I wasn't going to have much time left with her. I love you forever mommy!
