“ My husband Richard and I first met Pat and Dick back in the 90tys when we bowled in leagues together. Years later after we became foster parent we became very close friends with Pat and Dick spending many Friday evenings together playing Aggravation the marble board game, while our foster kids went roller skating. We will miss Pat but know she is happy now to be back with the love of her life. Rest In Peace dear friend. Richard & Thelma Perry

My sister, Paula Coombes, who passed away just within days of Pat's passing, introduced me to Pat when I was 27 years old and a new foster parent. My sister was a foster parent also. Pat, Paula, Dorothy Pittman - another friend and foster parent, and I spent many many hours visiting and playing spades and discussing the needs and care of all if our foster children. Pat would call me and offer support and advice on many occasions. I thought the world of her and was so grateful for her friendship. Eventually our lives went separate ways, but I have thought of her often over the years and for some reason I can still recall her home phone number. Must be because I dialed it so very many times back in the day. Rest in peace Pat. You have earned your heavenly reward.
