“ My Grandfather.....WWII Veteran.....Tribal Chief for our Tribe for a number of years, and the man who taught me everything. He took the role of Father when I needed it, taught me how to drive, taught me everything. From a young child all the way through high school my Grandfather was there for me. Everyday I find myself doing tasks and always remembering what he taught me. Yes...he was cremated....that is correct, and his ashes are with me. The best man I ever knew or ever will know. There isn't a day that goes by that I don't think of him or the things he taught me. If it wasn't for him I would have never had the male role model that every young man needs.....God only knows what would have happened to me without him. I love you Gramps, and I will always follow the lessons you taught me, every single day of my life.
