“As I sit in my moms living room looking up at the ceiling, I can't help but think of you Travis, and giggle a little. The unpainted patch work still covers the hole from the game of tag in the rafters that led to to feet dangling above my head. You always have had an ability to know when I was feeling down and needed some kind words, because it's always seemed that at those moments you would just send me a little line of encouragement. You were my first boyfriend, and my life long friend. R. I.P my friend. You will be missed.
